PLANNING FOR DEPARTURE

HORSEMEN PREPARE TO LEAVE CHARLESTON FOR OTHER RACING POINTS.

Meeting at Palmetto Park Scheduled to Come to a Close in Two Weeks—H. G. Bedwell Leader Among Money Winning Owners.

Charleston, S. C., March 15.—Horsemen here are now planning for departure to the north and west, as only two weeks remain of the present winter meeting at Palmetto Park. The majority will transfer their operations to Norfolk, where racing begins April 1. Others will go to Maryland to await the opening of the courses in that state. The more pretentious stables, though, will be shipped to Kentucky. There will be no shortage of racing material to carry on the racing here during the rest of the meeting, for there is an abundance of horses here that will remain until the close. The cheaper grade of horses will furnish the bulk of the racing, for it is customary at all courses to give the "poor man" greater opportunity towards the close of each meeting to win a purse or two to enable him to pay shipping expenses. The present meeting has shown a surplus of the cheaper grade of horses.

The followers of the sport who have wintered will remain here to the end of the season. It has been remarkable how well the entrance has kept up. Most of the regulars will go to Norfolk at the close of the season here.

Even with the meeting on the wane there have been numerous arrivals. Many easterners who have sojourned in Florida during the winter are stopping off here for a few days en route home.

It has been settled that H. G. Bedwell will be the leading money winning owner of the meeting. This is the third season that the Colorado turfman has led the other owners at this track in point of stake and purse winnings. His stable is by no means pretentious, so far as quality is concerned, but the program has suited his useful racers. Bedwell will campaign the coming summer and fall on eastern and Canadian courses. He has refrained from engaging in Kentucky racing since his trouble of several years ago at Latonia. The J. O. Talbot stable, which will be second in the list of winning owners, also will campaign on eastern courses. This stable should be a formidable one in the east during the coming season, for it embraces several high-class horses that did not start here. Prominent in the list is Lahore, which has wintered well. Another stable that will journey from here to Havre de Grace is that of J. L. Holland. The horses in this establishment were active only during the first part of the local season, but of late have been idle, with the exception of an occasional start by a two-year-old. The veteran Donald Macdonald is as frisky as any of the youngsters in the barn. P. M. Burch's horses also will shortly be shipped to Havre de Grace.

With the sun shining steadily all day, the Palmetto Park track dried out rapidly today and for the first time in many weeks, the week's sport will be ushered in under favorable conditions. Tomorrow will mark the beginning of the next to the last week of the meeting and the turfmen are hoping for good weather and track conditions so that they can get their good horses out and have them fit for the racing in the east and north.

The program book for this week calls for several overnight handicaps which will no doubt fill well and result in good sport. As has been the case since the extension began, the two-year-olds will be given more opportunities and each race for the juveniles seems larger and better fields contesting.

The racing card for St. Patrick's Day, a holiday in this section, will be especially attractive and it is expected that the attendance upon that occasion will surpass that of any previous day. The past week was noticeable for a considerable increase in the attendance from among the local people. For the first time since racing was inaugurated here, there were two disqualifications within a week. Both fouls were so palpable that there was not the slightest murmur over the decisions of the stewards. The jockeys who are inclined to ride roughly have been given plenty of opportunity to change their mode of riding, but when big fields contest in a race at a mile or over, there is always a bad jam on the first turn and many of the riders have had narrow escapes. With jockeys Borel, Burlingame, R. Goose and McCahay out of the saddle, and Buxton, who led the riders of America last year, receiving only a few mounts, the jockey material available is rather mediocre, and J. McTaggart continues to hold sway as the leader. There is no rider even within striking distance of him.

With a total of $16,015 to his credit in purses won, H. G. Bedwell has a big lead over the other owners. He has lost a few purses recently because of run-ups and he also has been active in bidding up horses himself. The list of owners who have won $1,500 or more to date follows: H. G. Bedwell, $16,015; J. O. Talbot, $12,777; Beverwyck Stable, $6,705; A. Weber, $6,025; R. E. Carman, $5,805; J. L. Holland, $5,810; I. M. Hedrick, $4,215; W. G. Yank, $4,019; W. Walker, $3,775; J. W. Hedrick, $3,525; C. S. Wilson, $3,210; H. McCarron, $3,200; F. E. Brown, $3,100; G. W. J. Bissell, $2,835; G. C. Baker, $2,775; J. U. Strode, $2,610; J. W. Johnson, $2,385; F. J. Pons, $2,200; T. F. Sheedy, $2,100; J. M. Zimmer, $2,075; N. E. Davis, $2,075; L. Marlon, $1,965; E. McBride, $1,965; C. A. Specht, $1,850; M. A. Colton, $1,750; R. Colston, $1,755.

IMPRESSED BY DERBY MATERIAL.

Cincinnati, O., March 15.—Charles H. Hughes, the veteran trainer, was here recently. He wintered at Lexington, but has spent the last three weeks in Louisville. "In my long career on the turf I have never seen as fine looking three-year-olds as I have seen in the last month," remarked Mr. Hughes. "Lexington is alive with good horses and the two Louisville tracks house any number of first-class thoroughbreds. Training operations received a setback in the last month, due to miserable weather conditions, but with good weather from now on there will be plenty of racing material ready for the spring campaign. All of the three-year-olds have broadened out and should make excellent racing material. The favorite for the Kentucky Derby will not be the sensational Old Rosebud, but another Louisville-owned horse, named Ralph. The people of the Falls City are crazy over the prospects of George J. Long's horse, and regard him as a certain winner, barring accidents. Ralph did not develop until late in the fall, when he won nearly every race in which he started. There was some uncertainty as to his mud-running ability until he ran in heavy going as though he liked it in a stake race at Latonia last fall. That settled the question in the minds of the Louisville people. It is about a toss up as to whether the track will be fast or heavy on Derby day, and a horse which can run on either of these tracks looks like a good prospect. The Louisville people, and especially those around the race tracks, seem to have forgotten the good work displayed by Old Rosebud in the spring, and though he will be second choice, there seems to be a suspicion that Old Rosebud is not cut out for a

DAUGHTER OF PLAUDIT THE BEST TWO-YEAR-OLD FILLY OF LAST YEAR

In his few years on the turf on an extensive scale the Canadian owner, R. Davies, has been fortunate in having his colors carried by winning horses of good class. In this line it fell to him last year to possess decidedly the best two-year-old filly owned in Canada or the United States. This was the Plaudit filly, Southern Maid, which but for the fleetness and courage of Pennant, would have taken the spoils of the Futurity Stakes to Canada for the second time in the history of that richest of American stakes for two-year-olds. Her dam, Sally K., is a half sister to King James, so Southern Maid is closely related to that great race horse and probable good sire of the future.

Southern Maid appeared in public racing for the first time at the Toronto spring meeting on Saturday, May 13, 1913. It was a purse race for two-year-olds at four and a half furlongs, in which, outside of Miss Gayle, she was not called upon to meet anything of much account in a racing way. Showing speed of the highest order, she ran away from Miss Gayle and, setting a new track record, won by ten lengths in 53 1/2 seconds. This race was educational for the winner. Her next appearance was in the Victoria Stakes, at the same track May 30, at five-eighths of a mile. This she won all the way never extended and, covering the distance in 1:06 1/2, finished in a canter a length and a half in front of Miss Gayle, with Revell a good third and two others unplaced. She carried 115 pounds to 110 on Miss Gayle and was at 1 to 4 in the betting. In her next race she met opposition of a decidedly different class and was vanquished. This was in a purse race at Hamilton, June 25, the distance being five-eighths of a mile. She carried 113 pounds to 108 on the famous Little Nephew and, while she ran a grand race, could not give that weight to him, although defeating the other four starters easily enough. Racing stride for stride, Little Nephew led her by a head at a swift pace around to the last eighth in the homestretch, then drew away and won from her by a length and a half in the Canadian record time of 59 1/2 seconds. Lyric Muse was third four lengths back. Second again was the best she could do in her next attempt. This was in the Spring Brewery Stakes of five-eighths of a mile, at Hamilton, July 2. For this event the starters were Vandergriff, 113 pounds; Southern Maid, 120; The Usher, 111, and Silent Pilot, 111. Vandergriff, a good Ben Brush colt belonging to John W. Schorr, was in fine fettle that day and the filly found the task of giving him seven pounds, besides her sex allowance, beyond her power, so in a fast-run race he won by two lengths in 1:00 1/2, with The Usher. Then the tide turned her way and she won her next three races.

The first of the three was the Niagara Stakes, at Fort Erie, July 7, and in this she revenged the defeat Little Nephew had given her at Hamilton. It was practically a two-horse race, the Davies pair, Southern Maid, 115 pounds, and The Usher, 108 pounds, against Little Nephew, 115. The track was safe, but not fast, the distance five-eighths of a mile and Little Nephew was at 9 to 20 in the betting, with 9 to 5 laid against the pair. There was consternation in the Little Nephew camp when Southern Maid went out in front at once and, leading all the way, won with great ease by two lengths. Little Nephew beating The Usher by the same interval. One effect of this unexpected result was to convince the owner of Little Nephew that stakiness was impending, so he was hurried on to Saratoga and at healthful "Horse Haven" was given a beneficial rest that helped him to race brilliantly when the Saratoga meeting came on. The second of the three races was at Windsor, July 17, in the Edgewood Stakes, at five-eighths of a mile over a heavy track. She had to carry 115 pounds to 103 each on Czar Michael, John P. Nixon and Superl, but so far outclassed her competitors that she went to the post at 1 to 8 in the betting and won in a canter by six lengths in 1:04 1/2, Czar Michael finishing second and John P. Nixon third. In her next race she was for the first time asked to run three-quarters of a mile and acquitted herself grandly. It was the Nursery Plate, at Hamilton, run July 2, over a fast track. Of her four opponents only Black Toney was of much account, but he was in good form himself that day and made her put her best foot foremost. She rushed into the lead at once and, running the first quarter in 23 1/2, the half mile in 46 1/2, finally drew away in the homestretch and won by four lengths in 1:13 1/2. She carried 118 pounds in this noble performance to 115 on Black Toney, 105 on Centauri and 108 on Perpetual and Willie Waddell. Black Toney ran a capital race himself and finished ten lengths before Centauri for second place. Then the good black daughter of Plaudit was taken to Saratoga for an unfruitful, but entirely creditable, campaign against high-class opposition.

At Saratoga she did not win, in fact her victory in the Nursery Plate was her last of the year. But even in defeat she did so well as to win general admiration and the genuine respect of owners of other two-year-olds brought into competition with her there. Holding an engagement in the Futurity, her mission there was to win that important event if she could. She was not started until August 21 and then in a handicap purse race at three-quarters of a mile, in which she was the top weight with 120 pounds in the saddle. The other starters and weights were Surprising, 118 pounds; Black Toney, 113; Punch Bowl, 112; Crossbush, 108; Cutaway, 106; Harry L., 105, and Trumps and Watermelon, 107 each. Obviously here was racing material of a character to give the filly all that could be desired in the way of a race to put her in the blood of perfect condition for the Futurity. She went to the post for the first time at 8 to 5, while she was 9 to 5. Brighurst was away well and cut out the running to the stretch, while Pennant and Southern Maid got away in the rear and the latter was at once cut off by Anytime. Pennant ran sluggishly at first, but finally got into his stride and passed Brighurst in the stretch, but was brought to the whip at the end to withstand the rush of the fast-moving Southern Maid and finally won all out by a length. Meanwhile the filly had been having much trouble and while Pennant was in the lead midway of the homestretch she was then fifth and five or six lengths behind him. That she made up nearly all of that ground and was only beaten a scant length shows that she would probably have won if away well and unhampered in the running. Under Rutwell's vigorous riding Addie M. ran the race of her career and was a close up third. It was a slow track and the time was 1:15. She ran twice afterwards, both times at the Toronto fall meeting. Here, on September 20, Hodge beat her by a head at three-quarters of a mile in 1:13 1/2, with Surprising third a length and a half back. The two leaders carried 115 pounds and Surprising 118. September 25 the trio met again in the Michaelmas Handicap at the same distance, along with five more two-year-olds. Hodge won again, this time in 1:12 1/2, with 125 pounds up. He only beat Surprising a head and he also carried 125 pounds. Southern Maid was given 120 pounds and, after leading to the stretch, tired and let Czar Michael, 102 pounds, up for third place, it being the only time she was unplaced last year. She ran the first half in 46 1/2, a circumstance that would readily account for her tiring under her heavy impost. Then she was retired for the year and her record and pedigree are as follows:

Derby horse and will not like the route. While his sire did not get much of a chance to show his mettle over a distance of ground, they, or most of them, are taking it for granted Old Rosebud will not do at a mile and a quarter. While Louisville is enthused over its two entries for the Derby, Lexington will have something to say before the race is over. Out at E. R. Bradley's Idle Hour Farm are three horses, any one of which will have a great chance in the big race. Bradley's Choice has wintered well and looks as if he will make a grand three-year-old. Boots and Saddle is the most improve horse I have seen. He has filled out and looks much stouter than he did a year ago."

BARNEY SCHREIBER'S LATEST MOVE.

Charleston, S. C., March 15.—Barney Schreiber, who is about to transfer his breeding establishment from Sedalia, Mo., to Kentucky, has been interesting owners here in a closing out sale to be held at the Sedalia Fair Grounds March 24, where he will offer at auction a big band of stallions, broodmares, yearlings, two-year-olds and older horses. He will likewise offer for sale farming implements, work horses, mules and other equipments on a well regulated stock farm. Discussing his proposed removal from Missouri to Kentucky, Mr. Schreiber said:

"The State of Kentucky is the only place for a breeding farm, for it is to the thoroughbred world what Wall street is to the money world. When a man wants to buy a thoroughbred horse he goes to Kentucky, and while there is plenty of competition, the field is so great that a man does not mind it." It is Mr. Schreiber's intention to retain about 20 of his choicest broodmares and some few of his two-year-olds. The latter he will put in training and race. He will dispose of them when opportunity affords, but he will hereafter maintain a racing establishment in connection with his breeding industries. Nealon and Otis, two of the stallions that have been doing stud service at the Schreiber establishment will be among the sires offered at the Sedalia sale, unless Robert A. Davies, wealthy Canadian turfman, who is in quest of them, buys them at private terms. Jack Atkin, which is at present quartered at Hal Price Headley's farm, near Lexington, Ky., will head Mr. Schreiber's new Kentucky stud. Mr. Schreiber has some notion of going to Germany in the event that bookmaking is legalized in that country to engage in the laying of odds.

WINS HER SECOND STAKE

JAMES BUTLER'S CLIMBER SCORES IN JUVENILE EVENT AT JUAREZ.

Beats Her Stable Companion, Supremacy, and Other Good Opposition in Feature Race of Excellent Card at Mexican Course.

El Paso, Tex., March 15.—For the last Sunday but one of the present Juarez meeting, Racing Secretary Edward Jasper provided a program of surpassing excellence. The Supremo Stakes, a half mile dash for two-year-olds, was the most important race of the day. It was likewise the last of the stake events scheduled for decision during the meeting. Climber and Supremacy, coupled as the James Butler entry, ruled at odds-on and the finish found them first and second in the order named. Marie O'Brien, from the Jefferson Livingston stable, had set the pace and easily held all but the Butler pair safe. It was Climber's second stake victory, she having previously won the Senoritas Stakes.

Viewing with the stake race in public interest was the mile handicap that was carded as the fifth race. The field that contested it numbered seven, with J. W. Fuller's Black-Eyed Susan filling the role of top weight. She was unable to make the weight concessions asked of her and failed to place. The winner turned up in D. E. Stewart's good mare Cousin Puss, which, in her last previous start had shown indications of a return to her good form. She was the opening choice today, but Mimorioso was so well backed that he went to the post equal favorite with her. She hoped him half a length in a fast run race, the timer hanging out 1:37 1/2.

The three-quarters dash for three-year-olds, that was run as the third race also interested the public immensely. In this race Captain Burns was conceding weight to the other five engaged and proved himself abundantly able to do it, for he won off by himself on a plunge on Sir Harry had the effect of displacing Captain Burns as the favorite of the race. Sir Harry showed the most early speed, but weakened at the end and lost second place to So-sius.

The remaining races were likewise well contested. In the opening dash, Acumen scored as the favorite, with jockey Taplin as his pilot. Mandadero, the early pace-maker, succumbed right at the end to Chilla's rush for second place. Rosemary led by a wide margin in the early stages of the second race, but one of the choices, Panachapi, got up to beat her by a head in an exciting finish. A "good thing" materialized when Nannie McPhee beat Blue-Bear by half a length for first money in the closing dash.

The most beautiful weather that could be desired prevailed today and one of the largest crowds of the meeting was in attendance. The layers report a big volume of speculation.

Starter Cassidy suspended jockey J. Howard for the remainder of the meeting for disobedience at the barrier in the stake race.

Little Jane changed hands today, W. C. Clancy selling her at private sale to H. Tullett.

HOW THE TETRARCH IS TRAINING.

Latest information from his training quarters at Stockbridge are distinctly encouraging concerning The Tetrarch, for it is at least indicative of satisfactory progress that he has quitted the walking and trotting business on the roads and been advanced to cantering on the downs. It is fair, therefore, to assume that whatever may have been the trouble with him since he retired from active service early in October last, it has yielded to veterinary treatment sufficiently to admit of going gently on with him at last, and I, for one, hope that there may be no recurrence, though it would be beside the mark to say that faith in the song of the "Guineas" and, happen what may will assuredly not be allowed to start at the forlorn odds which marked the sensational success last year of his quondam stable-companion, Abeyour. Altogether they are a rum-looking lot in the Derby, and another surprise may easily be in store; anyway, there need be no hurry on the part of speculators until they know more about The Tetrarch—"Vigilant," in London Sportsman, March 4.

NOTES OF THE TURF IN OTHER LANDS.

Lord Minto, former governor-general of Canada, and an ardent admirer of racing, died at his home in England March 1.

Sir J. Titchborne intends to relinquish racing in the Emerald Isle, and his horses in training at the Curragh will be sent over to England after the Punchestown meeting in April.

Sir Charles Ascheton-Smith has taken out of training his high-class hurdler, Lady Madcap, and the daughter of Drummeel and May Morning has arrived at the Riverstown Stud in Ireland, to be mated with St. Gris, the sire of Glenside, Bernstein, etc. Lady Madcap represents a famous line of jumping blood in Ireland, where she was bred, but she is not in the Stud Book.

Many horses of late have claimed to be the oldest in training, but the question has been settled now that Flutterer has been sent out again, as his trainer assured us that the old chestnut is seventeen. Considering his great age, Flutterer made a very gallant show in the Elvaston Handicap Steeplechase at Derby yesterday. He jumped superbly, and was only caught and beaten by Orangeville and Red Stork in the last fifty yards.—Sporting Life of March 3.

On March 3 Mediator and Cutbert were equal favorites for the Lincolnshire Handicap at 100 to 9. Aghoe was next in favor at 100 to 8 and Brancepeth had good backing at 20 to 1. At the same time Lutour III. was favorite for the Grand National Steeplechase at 100 to 12. Covercoat standing at 10 to 1, Jacobus 100 to 8 and Carrigue 100 to 6. Both races will be decided before long, the Lincolnshire on March 25 and the Grand National on March 27.

ANTICIPATES A SHORTAGE OF RACERS.

A New York correspondent who appears to have studied the situation pretty thoroughly, ventures the opinion that there will hardly be sufficient horses to go around—that is to say to make decent fields at all the racetracks that will be in operation this year in the United States and Canada. That there will be a tremendous increase in racing is assured. There seems in fact to be a complete reaction against the policy of suppression that the Hart-Agnew bills, promoted by Governor Hughes in New York states, gave birth to. In New York itself there will be continuous racing from May to September. Last year the sport at the big tracks excepting Saratoga, was only for three days a week. This year there will be racing day in and day out. In addition several states have given official recognition to the sport by sanctioning the use of the mutual machines or by the appointment of commissions. It is now that the serious blow dealt by adverse legislation to the breeding interests of our neighbors can come and materially enrich themselves. Increasing in number, there appears no appreciable increase in stock farms. This is undoubtedly due to lack of confidence in the continuation or stability of the sport. In short it is a case of once bitten twice shy.

With the revival of racing in New York state and elsewhere it is hardly possible that the same high class of foreign horses will be seen on the Canadian tracks. In one sense it is a question if this is a state of things to be deplored. With the big American racing stables absent there will be a better chance for our own breeders and owners to get a share of the good things going than there has been in the last few years. It is nice to see the highest quality horses race, but it was not by following a free and open policy that France became the racing power it is. On the contrary, over there the policy in force has been an exclusive and conservative one and is so to this day. There are few good stakes that foreign horses are at liberty to win. I am not advocating a shut-the-door policy, although I must confess to liking to see Canadians carry off a goodly portion of their own money. Besides, if foreigners can come and materially enrich themselves at our expense the argument, somewhat weak at all times, that horse racing exists largely for the encouragement of breeding in the country, pretty well has the prop knocked from under it altogether. Hence the absence of the Belmonts, Whitneys, Schorrs, et al will not prove an altogether unmitigated evil. Harry Good in Montreal Mail.

HUNGRY FOR RACING AT NEW ORLEANS.

New York, March 15.—"Just back from New Orleans," said an old-time race goer, one who can go back to the days of the late Leonard Jerome and describe races that were run more than thirty years ago. He was strolling up Broadway when he volunteered a description of the feelings of the people in New Orleans fifteen years ago and their feelings today.

"I don't want you to use my name in this thing," he said, "for it might get me in bad with the management of the existing winter tracks for boosting New Orleans. But you never saw people so crazy to have horse racing revived as they are in New Orleans. The cry for racing comes from practically every business man in the city. Merchants, brokers, hotel men, restaurant proprietors, clubs—in fact, to hear them talk, all feel the effects of the absence of racing men and visitors during the winter months to an alarming extent."

"To such extremes have they gone for favorable legislation to revive the sport that appeals are posted in many places which read 'We Want Racing and We Want a Fair.' No better illustration could be given of the feeling of the people than to have such a pleading placed in hanging in some of the most prominent business houses in the city."

"The proprietors of the big department stores, as well as those of the smaller institutions, are complaining of bad business. Restaurants like Feh-bacher's and Antoine's especially feel the loss of the winter visitors and the hotels and occupants of Arcade stores are unanimous that the revival of racing would improve the business of the place to a great extent."

"There is not a shortage of money in New Orleans. On the contrary, there is plenty of it, but it needs some sort of amusement to make folks loosen up. They are down there in the south, with little more than moving picture houses to offer recreation and entertainment. The city appears to be standing still, as it were. All first-class theatrical shows do find their way here. In fact, of entertainment, from grand opera to skittles, would take these days in New Orleans, so eager are the citizens to be entertained."

"I was talking with some of the men connected with the Southern Pacific Steamboat Company the way home, and they told me that in the racing days at New Orleans they used to transport anywhere from 5,000 to 7,000 passengers interested in racing on their ships to and from New Orleans during the winter months."

"I can say the business men wanted racing it is in New Orleans, and if they don't get it pretty soon they will be disappointed."
